AIA/CES Program No. 203: Lecture & 2nd Quarterly Meeting

AIA Initiatives: A Dialogue with the President

Presentation by AIA National President

Marvin J. Malecha, FAIA, 2009 President, The American Institute of Architects

Please join us in welcoming the President of our institute!

Professor Marvin J. Malecha, FAIA, became Dean of the College of Design at North Carolina State University in 1994. For 12 years prior, he was dean of the College of Environmental Design at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona.

Malecha was elected as First President/President Elect (2008-2009) of The American Institute of Architects. During 2006, Malecha was inducted into Sigma Xi, the scientific research society. Malecha received the prestigious 2003 Topaz Medallion for Excellence in Architectural Education from the American Institute of Architects and Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture. He received his B. Arch from the University of Minnesota and a Master of Architecture from Harvard University.

Malecha was awarded the James Haecker Distinguished Leadership Award for Architectural Research (2007) and he was awarded the William R. and June Dale Prize for Excellence in Urban Planning (2008). In 2006 Dean Malecha received the Jackson Rigney Award for International Service from North Carolina State University. He was one of seven recognized Architectural Educators of the Year Award (2006) from Design Intelligence Magazine. He was ranked second nationally in 2005 for his influence on practice among architectural educators in the U.S. by Design Intelligence Magazine. He was recognized in 2002 as a Distinguished Professor by the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture (ACSA).
