CHAPTER ANNOUNCEMENT

AIA/CES Program No. 212: Technical Seminar by LEDArtist

LEDARTIST is a visionary creative lighting design company committed to being a leading innovator of creative lighting art and design & to utilizing the numerous sustainable benefits associated with LED technology.

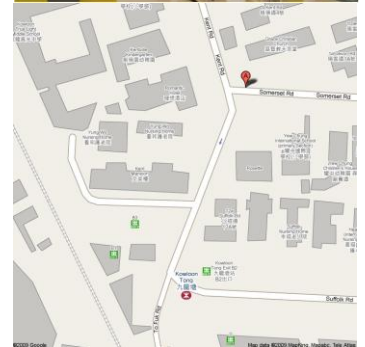

Attendees will tour Hong Kong's recently opened first office building using 100% LED lighting in both its interior and exterior spaces. The new building's lighting system features multiple energy saving and environmentally friendly capabilities. Since LED lighting is not adversely affected by frequent on/off switches, 70% of the lighting is controlled by movement sensors; a solar battery system was installed to power external lighting and to further reduce emission-producing energy consumption.

LEDARTIST's Chief Visionary Officer, Teddy Lo, will share with us the many details and methods used to reduce power usage and density and to reach stringent luminance requirements.

After the tour, Mr. Teddy Lo will share LED Design Trends and be available to answer questions. "The LED ARTIST headquarters is imbued with elements of our visionary design philosophy, and we're glad to be helping to drive more awareness of innovation and technology, as well as the importance of the growing environmental industry."

Come join us in learning more about LED sustainable illumination, state of the art technology with cutting edge contemporary art and design.
