International Associate Member

The International Associate category of membership is intended for individuals who have a license to practice architecture, or the equivalent, from a non-U.S. licensing authority. International Associate members may indicate that they are International Associates of The American Institute of Architects, subject to the AIA bylaws, and may use the title “International Associate, AIA” but not “AIA International Associate” or the initials “AIA” alone as a suffix to their name. International Associate members may wear the silver AIA pin, but not the gold AIA pin or the emblem. Individuals meeting the following criteria are eligible for the International Associate category of membership:

- Holder of an architectural license or equivalent from a non-U.S. licensing authority and demonstrate honourable standing in the profession in the locale in which they are licensed. Such persons may be resident within or outside the U.S.¹

International Associate members, subject to the conditions noted herein, enjoy the same rights and privileges as Architect and Associate members. International Associate members are required to join both AIA National and AIA Hong Kong (component chapter). The cost of International Associate AIA membership is US$327.00 per annum. Membership dues are pro-rated quarterly.

International Associate members:

- May not hold more than two seats or one-third of the total seats, whichever number is greater, on section or chapter boards.
- May not vote on dues for Architect members.
- May not constitute more than one-third of any component delegation to state, regional and national conventions.
- Shall not be eligible to serve as a national officer, regional director, component officer, or on the National Judicial Council.

Benefits of Membership:

- Use suffix “Intl. Assoc. AIA” which carries worldwide recognition by the profession.
- Attend guided building tours, seminars and quarterly meetings featuring prominent guest speakers. Recent AIA Hong Kong guest speakers include Michael Graves, Richard Meier, Rafael Moneo, Cesar Pelli, Martha Schwartz, Tod Williams/ Billie Tsien, and Ken Yeang, among others.
