Design Brief

What is the meaning of a phone booth as an item of street furniture in the digital age? Is it a new display platform, a clinic, a data collection point, a place to rest and re-charge your phone - or is it just an urban rain shelter? This design competition aims to highlight the new meaning of a payphone booth as street furniture in the digital age and to encourage cross disciplinary teamwork to promote the importance of sustainability, innovation and functionality in society.
